

Check out glass art show, channel Helen Roper from 'Three's Company' and other fun things

There's something for everyone this weekend.

Makayla Coffee mcoffee@mlive.com

The end of the week is quickly approaching, and there's plenty of activities to check out this weekend around Washtenaw County.

There's something for everyone, whether they love Helen Roper from "Three's Company," or want to shop from a local artist.

YPSILANTI'S SECOND ANNUAL MRS. ROPER ROMP

A unique event is going on in Ypsilanti for the second year in a row.

A group of people are planning to dress up and celebrate Helen Roper from "Three's Company," with their second-annual Mrs. Roper Romp throughout Ypsilanti's downtown and Depot Town.

The romp begins at Sidetrack Bar and

Pieces of glass art made by artist Larry Nisson will be on sale from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday at 1227 Lutz Ave. to benefit the Ann Arbor Art Center's Art in Public program.

MLive.com file

Grill, 56 E. Cross St., at 4 p.m. Saturday. There will then be a group photo at The Tridge at 7:15 p.m. followed by a group meetup at 8 p.m. at the Tap Room, 201 W. Michigan Ave.

The event will also include other local businesses and feature a variety of activities.

FISHVILLE FARMS BACK TO SCHOOL CRAFT SHOW

There's a craft show this weekend set to feature more than 50 handmade artisan crafters and small businesses.

The family-friendly event is 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday on the Chelsea Fairgrounds. There will be free admission along with a free kid's activity station. There will also be a school supply drive going on for local foster care children that participants can donate to.

PRESERVATION FALL FEST AT THE HOMES CAMPUS

The upcoming Preservation Fall Fest is happening at the HOMES Campus from 6-11 p.m. Saturday at 112 Jackson Plaza.

The event will feature performances from bands like Joe Hertler and the Rainbow Seekers, The Gashounds, Same Eyes and Au Gres. There will be some HOMES beer available for purchase along with a full custom menu for the fall fest which will feature some veggie and vegan options.